

1. DOMAIN SHIFT: distributions change between training (source) and deployment (target)

2. DOMAIN ADAPTATION: align distributions to improve generalisation to the target domain

Key idea: Instead of (re)training on target data, DA methods reduce the source–target gap so a model trained on the source generalises better to the target.

Scarce / unlabeled target data

Goal: robust performance in the target domain